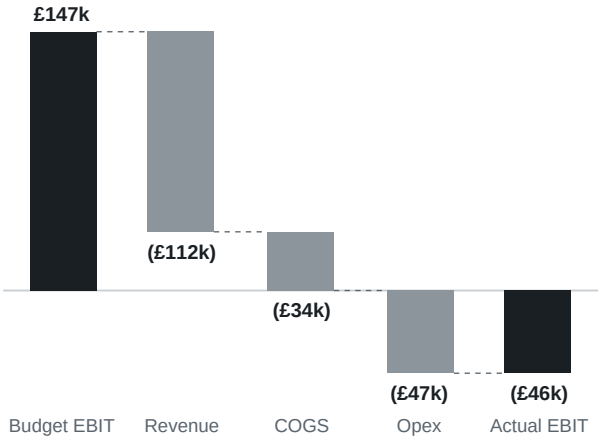
From budget to actual EBIT



Each step is that part of the P&L against budget, as its effect on profit: revenue below budget, or a cost above it, lowers profit.

Main drivers of the variance against budget

Subtotal	Line	Impact on profit Fav/(Adv) £
Gross profit	Retail	(56,180)
	Ingredients	(37,310)
	Export	(28,810)
EBIT	Retail	(56,180)

	Ingredients	(37,310)

Computed from the P&L: each line's budget variance as its effect on profit. The commentary does not attribute; this table does.

Commentary on material lines

Retail was £1.64m, £56k (3.3%) below budget and 8.0% above last year. Export was £221k, £29k (11.5%) below budget and 20.9% below last year.

* Material: a variance against budget of £50,000 or 10.0% or more. The percentage test is not applied across a change of sign. Material rows are shaded and marked *.

Figures are calculated before rounding, so totals and differences may not add exactly.

Fav/(Adv): favourable variances are shown plain and adverse ones in brackets; for costs an overspend is adverse. n/m: not meaningful, because the comparator is zero or the sign changed.

Converted to pounds from the KPI file, which states cash in thousands.

The cash balance was £1.18m, £174k below target and £112k below last year.
